WORLD MISSIONS

Birmingham, England - Our missionary partners in Birmingham, England - Kenny and Kristy Dubnick - arrived back in England at the end of December. Once on the ground, they had two priorities.

First, they were ready to get back to the church plant, Oikos Church. On their first Sunday back with the local church family, they were welcomed back to their small but growing community. Kenny shared that two of the people who were there that Sunday had first come to Oikos as a direct result of the event that FBC's mission team had helped with last June. Shane, an Irishman who had come to Birmingham to work, first encountered Oikos church as the church and FBC mission team handed out hot chocolate and cookies on a Saturday in June. Shane attended Oikos for the first time the next day. He's been attending Oikos every Sunday since.

The second person was an African immigrant to Birmingham who asked a number of questions about Jesus at that Saturday event and showed up for church the next day. Eventually, she brought her children and then her husband to worship with her. Oikos is having an impact on the city of Birmingham.

The second priority is to get their recently acquired property ready to open for business. Oikos Church leased a building on the local high street (main street). They are putting the final touches on renovating the building so they can use it for worship services on Sundays and small group Bible studies during the week. They will also run a coffee shop out of the building during the week. It will be a place where ministry can happen at any time.

Pray for Kenny and Kristy and Oikos Church as they prepare to open the coffee house and continue to have an impact on their community with the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Rochester, NY - While an inch of snow can shut down Rock Hill, church planter Elliott Sneed and Discovery Church in Rochester, NY will see an average of 86 inches of snowfall during winter. Snow doesn't shut down much in Rochester. During the last month, they have begun two new small groups. One is a recovery group that will meet during the week. The other is a discipleship group meeting on Sunday nights. Also in December, they baptized 6 new believers! They are currently looking for a leader to begin a student ministry at Discovery. Pray that the Lord will guide them to the right person.

Currently, they are looking for a new meeting space for their church. They are close to capacity at their current space and would like to relocate to a place that is more centrally located to their mission field. Also last fall, Discovery hosted a fall festival that was attended by almost 700 people. Pray for Discovery as they continue to reach out to those who attended.
